CENTRALIZATION AND MEXI-CANIZATION.

That class of politicians who act upon the theory that nine-tenths of the people are fools, will make a great noise in the next political canvass about centralization. They will weep and howl over the danger to the Republic of a strong Federal Government and prate about State Rights. Intelligent men will hardly be affected by their lugubrious howlings. Between Mexicanization | could show "how things ought to be and centralization we will take the done." Surely the material exists, and latter. Between no Government at utilize it. all and a strong Federal Government, we will take a strong Federal Government, first last and all the time. MR EDITOR: Although I can not be present-it has afforded me no little pleasure to observe Knoxville is to have a 4 h of July-the more, as I have indulged the patriotic fever, until taxed with eccentricity-and by men, who have no more idea of a nationality than a monkey has of metaphysic -- a little more 'hail Columbia,' and less of Congressional blather, -would be better for the country at large. I notice but one sensible remark was made a man named McCook-who had to apologise therefor. The fact is, were not Congress the elysium of knaves, twould be the paradise of fools. But touching your festival.

I presume you will have a Conti-nental equad. This continental costume was always a puzzle to me; alalso that the musters were of inordinate weight and length, that the sergeants carried halberds, and all that sort of thing, but concerning the tra-ditional dress, I always bad my doubts. There are several existing organizations; preserving the traditions, costumes, &c. of days of yore—among the rest the ancient and honorable artillery of Boston, Amoskeag veterans, THE latest intelligence from Ohio is that Gen. The oddest thing I have ever seen, however, was not long since, in Claiborne county; a marching body, headed by a band, composed of two fiddles, a violincello, a flute and a bass drum, all cocked up in a two-horse wagon, and playing the "Prima Donna Wallz."

I laughed, I did. I have thrown together a few reminiscences, suggested by your 4th of July, but can not close without expressing regret that you have no good military corps in Knoxville. 'Tis the more strange, as under the shadow of the University of Tennessee, from whence you could draw drill sergeauts and instructors, while the cadet corps you have a young Norvel who could BRIC-A-BRAC.
